McCOY GLOBAL INC. ANNOUNCES SECOND QUARTER 2018 RESULTS

Edmonton, Alberta – McCoy Global Inc. (“McCoy”, “McCoy Global” or “the Corporation”) (TSX: MCB) today announced its operational and financial results for the three months ended June 30, 2018.

Quarterly Highlights

- Fifth consecutive quarter of increasing customer orders
- Fourth consecutive quarter of increasing backlog
- Completion of restructuring efforts to consolidate operational facilities to deliver significant operational efficiencies
- Improved visibility into the remainder of 2018 and into 2019

“Positive industry sentiment and steady customer activity contributed to $12.7 million in orders received during the second quarter, a 60% increase over the same period in 2017.” said Jim Rakievich, President and CEO of McCoy Global. “With customers beginning to deploy capital for large equipment orders, including off-shore markets, we are pleased to be entering the second half of 2018 with $12.7 million in secured backlog. Further, we remain actively engaged with our customers in negotiations on supplying equipment on a number of projects in both the Eastern and Western Hemisphere over the second half of 2018 and into 2019.”

“During the second quarter, McCoy successfully commercialized the 10” 40K power tong which was designed for the US land market, where tubular make-up requirements have increased. This technologically advanced product provides customers with superior performance and safety features while reducing weight and footprint of the equipment on the rig. Our R&D team continues to ensure that McCoy remains the technology leader in tubular make-up as customer orders are already exceeding expectations.”

“Given our growing backlog balance and positive customer sentiment, the second half of 2018 should result in increased revenues and margins for McCoy,” continued Jim Rakievich. “McCoy has remained focused on preserving its balance sheet and protecting shareholders from dilutive capital raises during this extended downcycle, which has positioned McCoy to take advantage of a market upturn to the benefit of all stakeholders of McCoy.”

1 Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP measure defined as net (loss) earnings, before depreciation of property, plant and equipment; amortization of intangible assets; income tax expense (recovery); finance charges, net; restructuring charges; other losses (gains), net; provisions for excess and obsolete inventory; share-based compensation; and impairment charges. The Corporation reports on EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA because they are important measures used by management to evaluate performance. The Corporation believes adjusted EBITDA assists investors in assessing McCoy Global’s current operating performance on a consistent basis without regard to non-cash, unusual (i.e. infrequent and not considered part of ongoing operations), or non-recurring items that can vary significantly depending on accounting methods or non-operating factors. Adjusted EBITDA is not considered an alternative to net (loss) earnings in measuring McCoy Global’s performance. Adjusted EBITDA does not have a standardized meaning and is therefore not likely to be comparable to similar measures used by other issuers. Adjusted EBITDA should not be used as an exclusive measure of cash flow since it does not account for the impact of working capital changes, capital expenditures, debt changes and other sources and uses of cash, which are disclosed in the consolidated statements of cash flows.

2 The Corporation defines backlog as orders that have a high certainty of being delivered and is measured on the basis of a firm customer commitment, such as the receipt of a purchase order. Customers may default on or cancel such commitments. In certain instances, the order is secured by a deposit and/or requires reimbursement by the customer upon default or cancellation. Backlog reflects likely future revenues; however, cancellations or reductions may occur and there can be no assurance that backlog amounts will ultimately be realized as revenue, or that the Corporation will earn a profit on backlog once fulfilled. Expected delivery dates for orders recorded in backlog are generally within six months.

3 The book-to-bill ratio is a measure of the amount of net sales orders received to revenues recognized. The ratio is an indicator of customer demand and sales order processing times. The book-to-bill ratio is not a GAAP measure and therefore the definition and calculation of the ratio will vary among other issuers reporting the book-to-bill ratio. McCoy Global calculates the book-to-bill ratio as net sales orders taken in the reporting period divided by the revenues reported for the same reporting period.
